Belected Poetry.

NO DORG TO LOVE. No dorg to love, none to karess, How can I ever my sadness express? Chunk is defunct, dead as a nale, Hushed in his barkin, and still in his tale; Oh, such a tale, white on the end. Opht did he chase it with a wiggle and bend; Chase it with hope, twisting around, Till, overcome, he reposed on the ground. Now he's eckstinct, dead as a nale, Where am his bark and the wag ofhis tale?

In dreams, alone, poor chunk I see. Swigging his milk, or else scratching a flea Tis but a dream, waking I weep, For under 2 feet of ground does he sleep. Oh, blissful burp, onst full of pla. Haven't I fed you day after day? Given you milk, given you broad, Given you many a pat on the head? Now you're eckstinct, dead as a nale. Where am the bark and the wag of your tale?

Whý did ye die ? Sadli I mone, Was it from pizen, or swallin a bone? No waggin tale, no beamin eye, Answer the questin, or give a repli; Was it a fit—stoppage of breth— Eatin 2 much the sad cause of your deth? Still not a word, dead as a nale, Dim is his eye, stilled forever his tale.

No dorg to luv, nun to karess.

HARVESTING BUCKWHEAT.

The American Agriculturist says:-'The excellence of buckwheat flour depends thieff on the management of the grain between the time of ripening and will be wasted by shelling out; the straw will cure and dry out sooner, and make better fodder; the crop will be ready for threshing or housing in less time; and the grain will yield a much better quality of flour. It is especially injurious to the grain to be exposed to storms before it is set up, for dirt is spattered all over the grain. by the falling of large rain drops.

Incolred, That the Democratic party are now, as ever, the only true Union party of the land; that we point with pride to the unselfish and untiring efforts made by all Democrats and Conservatives in and out of Congress to preserve the Union before the war commenced by congrain to be exposed to storms before it is set up, for dirt is spattered all over the grace of God and the virtue of the people, it would continue to exist. This makes the flour dark-colored and gritty. Wetting and drying the grain several times, destroys the life of the flour. It never will be as white, nor make as good cakes, but will be sticky

CURING HENS OF SPTING.

A writer in the New England Farmer says that he cured his hens from sitting by shutting them up in a tub having an inch or two of water on the bottom. He keeps them there during the day and puts them on the roost at night. If not cured the first day he treats them to the "water cure" another day, when they will be dignation.) ONIONS AND POULTRY.

Scarcely too much can be said in praise of onions for fowls. They seem to be a preventive and remedy for various diseases to which domestic fowls are liable.— For gapes and inflammation of the throat, eyes and head, onions are almost a specific. They should be finely chopped.-A small addition of cornmeal is an improvement.-Genesee Farmer.

Fair Play.—Was it frank, fair or man-ly to ask the Southern States to ratify the Constitutional Amendments abolishing Slavery, if we intended, after they accepted that condition, to keep them out of the Union?

At the Reading Mass Convention.

Hon. Hiester Clymer of Berks county, the Democratic candidate for Governor, then addressed the assemblage. He said their previous kindness had hardly left life enough in him to enable him to address them at length. He was sure that the men who had come here from all sections of the State would not be disap-pointed if he addressed them briefly. The harvest was over, and for its abundance they should thank God. But there was another harvest to be reaped amid the frosts of October, when they were to be the reapers, and it would then be seen whether they had strength enough to cut whether they had strength enough to cut should not these States be represented down the weeds of scession and rebellion arguing it at some length. He asserted everywhere growing around them.— (Cheers.) Were they prepared to enter upon a canvass like that now opening? He could ask the whole State this questions. tion, as every section of it was represented in those he saw around this Democrated in those he saw around this Democratic altar. Had they come here swayed by one purpose, that after all that had been expended in war, the Constitution and the Union should be restored? (Cries of "yes" and cheers.) The war is over. The armies of the South have melted away like snow before the sun. There ought to be peace, but why was it that when open war was over, peace had not followed? The South had been obedient to the Constitution since, had chosen to the Constitution since, had chosen representatives and wished for peace, but because they would not bow the knee to New England fanaticism, they were kept under the heel of despotism. The more imperfect the working, the more salt is required. In keeping cream several days, put it where the temperature will be uniform and cool, and whatever cost. (Cheers.) It was a most cheeping the Union and the Constitution and creating the Union and Creating the Union and Cr cheering spectacle to him to witness Democratic devotion to the Government for the last administration, of which he was a member, had treated its opponents often harshly and unjustifiably, and yet Democrats poured out freely their blood and treasure to save the Union. He said ty-six States by just as many as they thought proper to admit to representation. The result would be two Presidents and two Congresses, because the Democracy, faithful to the Constitution, will recognize the Southern members. He told this to one of the leading Radicals in Washington, when one turned to him and said: "Yes, and we will have him and said: "Fes, and we will have you just where we have Jeff. Davis now," his eyes flashing angrily as he spoke it.

This spirit, said Mr. Blair, is hurrying the country into a new rebellion, in which the buttle-fields will be among you. (A voice—"Let it come.") Mr. Blair said no, he did not want to see it, but counsel your Radical friends and let them see what this lust of dominion in their party is leading us to. He reviewed the doctrine of secession, claiming that, while not expressed in words, yet the sense and meaning of the Constitution were averse to it. The new fangled Con-stitution the Radicals were putting upon the country was a contrivance by which Southern negroes were to be equalized with the whites, or that a negro vote in South Carolina would balance a white man's vote in Pennsylvania. Negro suffrage was an absurdity, and Jefferson had left it on record in his own handwriting that he never contemplated the intermingling of the races. It was mere political clap-trap, nothing more. The Radicals were afraid that if the South was admitted they would vote with the Democracy and elect Grant President, or perhaps McClellan, (Greatcheers.) There was not a thief in the United States who was not a Radical. During the course of his speech, Mr. Blair eloquently alluded to McClellan's patriotism, saying he knew that Liucoln, to the last, joined with him in that opinion. Every allu-sion to McClellan's name was greeted enthusiastically. The whole tenor of the speech indicated fears of serious trouble, owing to the Radical hatred of the South.

SPEECH OF HON. GEO. H. PENDLETON. After Mr. Blair's speech, Hon. George H. Pendleton was introduced, and re-H. Pendleton was introduced, and received an ovation. The enthusiasm was miration; and to her hoops, the whole pavement."

Mr. Pendleton commenced by culogizing the Democratic party, denying that it was dead and contending that so long as the government shall exist in this country it will maintain its vigor. It was a party of the people against the power of confederation, against consolidation. He then reviewed the early history of the government, showing that the party of confederation stood then as the Democratic party stood to-day. He insisted that the Southern States were in the Union, and that the grand question was whether they should be represented in Congress. In this matter the Democratic party of the desired that the stood in Congress. racy and the President entirely agree. He then considered the question, why that the Radical leaders had from the start been opposed to the Union. Thaddeus Stevens has said in his hurry, that with his consent the Union never should be restored. They hated our form of government, and knew the most effective stab they could give it would be to attempt to govern one-half of the country. He then took up the question of the constitutional amendment, believing that, if the Southern States were entitled to represen tation, it was superfluous, as its adoption was exacted as a condition of represen-tation, and if they were not so entitled its adoption could not confer that right the fairest productions of his brilliant

Resolutions Adopted by the Reading Mass Convention.

Resolved. By the Democracy of Eastern and Central Pennsylvania, in Mass Convention assembled: That the contest upon which we are now entering is simply, whether the Federal Union under the Constitution as adopted and construed by its illustrious authors, with the reserved-rights of the States unimpaired, shall continue to be our form of government, or whether we shall have forced upon us by Congressional usurpation and revolu-tionary action a central consolidated government, bound by no constitutional restraints, in which the liberties of the people would be at the mercy of a bare majority of Congress, controlled by a selfconstituted and irresponsible central di-

Resolved, That the Democratic party that the refusal of the Republican party to yield their partizan prejudices for the sake of Peace and Union, was the immediate cause of the war, and posterity will hold them responsible.

Resolved, That we will hold all the departments of the government of the United States of the States and States and States of the S

the Constitution requires it to be—the representative body of the whole people. Resolved, That we denounce the pro-readled Congress as lawless and revolutionary, and intended by its leaders to utterly subvert and destroy our wise and with, while the orphans and widows and benificent system of government, and to establish in its place a consolidated despotism, controlled by the worst spirit of New England fanaticism.

Resolved, That we tender to President

Johnson our hearty thanks for his bold and steadfast determination to restore the Union of our fathers, "in its original purity," and we adjure him by the memory of the immortal Jackson, to convince the Radical disunionists by word and deed, that the "Federal Union must and shall be preserved."

Resolved, That we are opposed to negro suffrage, believing that the white men of America are able to govern themselves, without the aid of an inferior race, and that we disapprove of the amendment to the Constitution, lately proposed by the so-called Congress, it being nothing but the offer of a reward to the States

Resolved, That we endorse and reaffirm the platform of principles adopted by the Democratic State Convention, at Harris- papers more than a year ago, and was burg, on the 5th of March last; and we present with pride to the Democratic and Conservative citizens of Pennsylvania, our worthy candidate for Governor, Hon. Hiester Clymer. He answers, in an eninent degree, the requirements of Jefferson; he is honest; he is capable and he is faithful. The most malignant of his political enemies can find no spot on his fair fame; and to the slanders and mis-representations of Radical disunionists, we answer that he is now, as he has always been and under all circumstances, in favor of the Union of our fathers—a union of white men.

Resolved, That the Tariff men of Pennsylvania may see by the votes of Senators Bumner and Wilson of Massachusetts, and Foster of Connecticut, that the professions of friendship for Pennsylvania by the Radicals of New England, are as sincere as their professions of regard for the Union of the States.

Resolved, That we approve of the call for a National Union Convention of all the States, to meet in Philadelphia on the 14th of August next, to sustain the President in his patriotic polley of restoration, and we recommend the State Central Committee to take such action as will best advance the purpose of the call.

The historic associations of Gettysburg, combined with its beauty of location and the eminence of its literary institutions, give assurance of an unusually large at-tendance. To secure a punctual attend-ance at the meetings of the association, it is suggested that excursions to the battle field be made before the morning sessions, or between the afternoon and evening

Arrangements have been made to procure accommodations for members at hotels and private families at reduced rates, Arrangements have also been made to secure a reduction of fare on all of the principal railroads of the State. Members will either get excursion tickets over all the leading railroads to Gettysburg, or be returned free, on presentation of certificates of membership from the association. EDWARD BROOKS.

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY FOR IRREDILARITIES.—These Drops are a scientifically compounded fluid preparation, and better than any Pills, Fowders or Nostrums. Being it quid, their action is direct and positive, rendering them a reliable, spee y and certain specific for the cure of all obstructions and suppressions of nature. Their popularity is indicated by the fact that over 100,000 bottles are annually consumed by the ladies of the United States, every one of their great merits. They are rapidly taking the place of every other Female Remedy, and are considered by all who know aught of them, as the surest, satest, and most infallible preparation in the world, for the cure of all female complaints, the removal of all obstructions of nature, and the promotion of health, regularity and strength.—Explicit directions stating when they may used, and explaining when and why they should not, nor could not be used without producing effects contrary to mature, and the world, for the cure of all female complaints, and explaining when and why they should not, nor could not be used without producing effects contrary to mature, and the world, for the cure of all female complaints, and explaining when and why they should not, nor could not be used without producing effects contrary to mature, and the world, for the cure of all female complaints, and explaining when and why they should not, nor could not be used without producing effects contrary to mature, and the world, for the cure of all female complaints, and explaining when and why they should not. Consumptives. DR. J. H. SCHENCK —

DEAR SER:-I feel it a duty I owe to you, Dr. Schenck, I will now make my statement to you as follows: About eighteen months age I was attacked with a severe cough, and it settled on my lungs: I could not retain saything I ate, and suffered with evening fevers ight sweats. I was very much reduced. The whites of my eyes were vary yellow; like-wise my skin; my appetite all gene, and una-ble to digest what I did eat; bewels swollen, $85 per acre.

A FARM OF 300 ACRES, in Comberland strength and shaptation to all kinds of work, ed, and had such violent spells of coughing when I laid down at night and when I arose in the morning that they would last one or two

I then would be nearly exhausted, and was entirely unable to lie on my left side. I cannot describe my wretched suffering as I would wish to do. Every organ in my body was diseased or deranged. Such was my situation at this time, and I was confined to my bed from the last of February, 1862, to June, 1862, not able to six up. I had the best of medical attendance the whole of the time. My cough was so very bad that it racked me very much I at this time raised a large quantity of thick yellow, offensive matter, sometimes with blood, and it was generally accompanied by nauses and a furred and thick coated tongue. At the time of coughing so badly I would have sharp, that it would throw me into spasms. Now my physician gave me up to die. Others I had, time and then I had again to call a physician for aid. We had four of the best physicians of New York on the diseases of the lungs, and doctors of all kinds, but of no avail. They said I was past cure, and that my lungs were too far gone for any one to cure me. But at this time I was on my feet about the house, not able to do much of anything. In November last I grew worse, and the consumption We had tried all and everything that I could not reasonably hezitate to give it a trial. grasp of like a dying person for my diseases— consumption and liver complaint—but of no

In January, 1863, I was brought down again on my bed, and was not expected to live the night out. My husband stayed at my side, STRUP blown in the glass! and other friends, and they all gave me ap die. At this time every one who saw me did not think I would ever leave my bed a living woman. The first night I was attacked with spasms, and was deranged most of the time.— A friend, Mrs. Rarris, came to see me the last of the week, and brought the Sunday Mercury. In it was an account of a great cure performed by Dr. Schenck. She read it to me, and it was so much like my disease that I asked my husband to go and see him for me. At this time I had given up all hopes of ever getting well again, and made my peace with God, to be ready whenever he called for me. On the 27th of January, 1862, my husband called on Dr. Schenck, 32 Bond atreet, New and examined me with the respirometer.— When he was about to go I asked him if he tell, both lungs are diseased, and the bronchial tubes are affected on both sides." And yet he seemed to think there were lungs enough left to effect a cure if the diarrhoa could be and it has been used with assonishing success to effect a cure it the diarrium could be stopped. He said in order to do this, he would in cases of Rhaumatiam, Dyspensia, Consamphare to give me Mandrake Pills in small doses tion, Female Complaints, Heart, Liver and have to give me Mandrake Pills in small doses at first, to carry off the morbid matter, and then, with astringents, he hoped to check it, which he did, but the constant coughing, night sweats, and diarrhoes had prostruted that he was afraid my vital powers were too much prostrated ever to rally, and yet he seemed to think if I could live to get enough Pulmonic Syrup through my system to cans expectoration there were laugs enough is ne to recover. He wished me to try the Pul monic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic at once, say ing it would do me no harm, if it did me ne strength, so that on Sunday after I sat up in next week I lost all hope and wished my bus band not to give me say more medicine. But the doctor had warned him of this, and when the medicine was clearing out the system it made them feel somewhat restless, and to persevere; and he insisted on my taking it; and low I feel the benefit of it. can rely on what he says. The great difficulty heretofore experienced in procuring true Flavoring Extracts, has in-duced the proprietor to spare no pains or expense in giving to the public an article which will be found true to its name, and which will in no instance be a source of disappointment It will be observed that our extract of Lemon and Orange is a prepared extract from the Peel, which any one may be convinced of by merely smelling them. The price of Vanilla Beans, too, has caused more useless Extract of Vanilla to be manufactured and sold than any other essence being either made from Touka Beans, or some other fictitious compound. In our Extract we WILL GUARANTEE A PURE ARTICLE! made from the true Bean, without any foreign substance whatever.

FOR HORSES, CATTLE & SWINE. 25 cents a paper, or five papers for $1.

The immense sale of these Powders during the short period they bave been before the public, is a sufficient guarantee of their great popularity, and the decided benefits derived from their use.

They are confidently recommended not only as a preventive, but as a complete cure for all diseases incident to the HORSE, COW or HOG, as Loss of Appetite, Coughs, Heaves, Yellow Water, Diatemper, Glauders, &c, &c.
By their use the Horse's Appetite is improv-ed, all derangements of the digestive organs corrected, softening the skin, and giving to the coat a sleek and shining appearance, and may be used with perfect safety at all times, as it contains no ingredients which can injure a horse, whether sick or well. They cleanse the breathing apparatus by ejecting from the air cells coagulated matter, or that formation which so severely clogs them, causing a tightness in breathing, and by their peculian action on that part, they cause the mucus membrane to resume its natural dimensions, thus equalizing the circulation of the blood and restoring the distended vessels to their natural size.

This medicine has been tried in thousands of cases in different parts of the country, and has never failed to cure if used in time, and according to directions. A great amount of suffering might often be saved by having a couple of bottles of this valuable medicine in the house. As an evidence of its great qualities the proprietor warrants every bottle to give entire satisfaction.

Try it and be convinced of its great value.

STONEBRAKER'S GREAT COUGH REMEDY, 3

For the Rapid Cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Difficulty of Breathing, Spitting of Blood, First Stages of Consumption, Soreness of the Throat, and all Affections of the Pulmonary Organs.

This Syrup is an invaluable remedy for the alloviation and cure of Pulmonary Diseases. It is prompt in its action, pleasant to the taste, and from its extreme mildness, is peculiarly applicable to the use of children and persons in delicate health. As an anodyne expectorant, it will always be found to be beneficial, by alleviating and arresting the several spells of coughing so distressing to the patient.

The afflicated can rely upon its doing of much, or more than any other remedy in soothing the nerves, facilitating expectoration, and healing the Diseased Lungs, thus striking at the root of all diseases and cradicating it from the system.

All I ask is a trial of this preparation, as it has no equal in its effects, and never fails to give entire satisfaction to all who use it. We warrant it in all cases or the money refunded.

CHOLERA PREVENTIVE!

X. 1866. L. THE GREAT ZINGARI BITTERS.

THIS WONDERFUL REMEDY was discovered and introduced about twenty years ago by Dr. S. Cheopsus, an eminent Egyptian physician

He had long seen and felt the want of some remedy which would strike at the root of diswhich the human family was then compelled to

The great question was presented to his mind every day in vivid colors as he moved as mong the sick and dying, and observed the inefficiency of nearly all the remedies then in use. Thus he was lead to think and experiment; and after ten years of study and labor, he presented to his fellow man the wonderful Zingari Bitters. Theeffect of this preparation in the prevention and cure of disease, was so marvellous and astonishing, that the most flattering marks of royal favor were bestowed upon him who discovered it. His name was placed upon the Roll of Nobles, and a gold medal with the following inscription—Dr. S. Cheopsus, the Public Benefactor—was preepidemics of cholera, both as a preventive and curative measure, and with such great success that it has been introduced into mearly all the

is worth a pound of cure, applies with mar-vellous force to cholers, and therefore any remedy that will protect us against this terrible disease should be freely and persistently

All pathologists now agree that the cholers poison acts on the system through the blood, and that any combination which acts on the excretory organs, and keeps them in working order, must prevent a sufficient accumulation of the poison to exert its terrible effects on the organism. This is true not only of cholera, but of nearly all other maladies, especially the different forms of futures. cially the different forms of fevers.

The Zingari Bitters is just such a remedy as the above conditions require. It acts on the organs of excretion and secretion, keeping up is composed entirely of roots and herbs, so nicely concocted that every organ is acted upon and put in tone. Its tasto is pleasant and its effects prompt and lasting.
